Wisdom in Nonsense: Invaluable Lessons from My Father

Heather O'Neill

RELEASED 2018 PAGES 64 RIGHTS AVAILABLE WORLD, ALL LANGUAGES EXCL. FRENCH

With generosity and wry humour, novelist Heather O'Neill recalls lessons she learned in childhood from her father: how crime does pay, why one should never keep a diary, and that it is good to beware of clowns, among other things. Her father taught her that everything she did was important.

Little Yellow House: Finding Community in a Changing Neighbourhood

Carissa Halton

RELEASED 2018 PAGES 176 RIGHTS AVAILABLE WORLD

"In this rich blend of stories, Carissa Halton captures the spirit of her downtown neighbourhood while sharing fresh ideas about justice and injustice in city life. Take a stroll down the street with her, meet her neighbours, and join an inspirational conversation about the true nature of home. Halton writes with clarity and tenderness about a place she loves."
– Linda Goyette

What You Take with You: Wildfire, Family and the Road Home

Therese Greenwood

RELEASED 2019 PAGES 216 RIGHTS AVAILABLE WORLD

Fort McMurray, Alberta, was devastated by an immense wildfire that garnered international attention. As the flames approached, Therese Greenwood and her husband had only minutes to pack. Her stories of what she saved from the fire will resonate with anyone who has lived through a crisis.

"Mean, you sound like a very reasonable person. Can I advise you to just report?"
